

Important: Please submit the guaranty separately (by post), even in the case of electronic manuscript submission.

Guaranty

Date:

Name of corresponding author:

Address:

Title of manuscript:

Names of all co-authors represented by the signatory:

The corresponding author hereby guarantees and promises the following matters with respect to the manuscript (literary work) titled above, which has been submitted to the Journal of the Geological Society of Japan, a publication of the Geological Society of Japan General Incorporated Association (hereinafter the “Geological Society of Japan”).

- 1) All the authors have read the submitted manuscript and consented to its submission.
- 2) The author (or above co-authors) own(s) the copyright to the manuscript.
- 3) The manuscript satisfies section A of the Instructions to Authors of the Journal of the Geological Society of Japan.
- 4) The manuscript shall not be submitted to another academic journal, similar proceedings, or another medium during the period until the acceptance or rejection decision has been made.
- 5) The manuscript does not include any infringement of the intellectual property rights of any work already published, or otherwise already in the public domain.
- 6) Permission has been obtained for use of all figures and tables contained in the manuscript reprinted from other publications.
- 7) In the case where the manuscript includes quotations from other research papers or the like, said quotations are consistent with fair practices and within a scope that is justified by the goals of the manuscript.
- 8) The manuscript does not include plagiarized data, falsified data, which will damage the reputation of the Geological Society of Japan and discredit the Journal of the Geological Society of Japan, content provided without the consent of persons who have a direct interest in the manuscript, or any other content that violates the code of ethics of the Society.
- 9) In the case where the manuscript is a joint literary work, the person who signs this guaranty as corresponding author has either obtained consent from all the co-authors or has acquired the rights necessary to sign this guaranty.
- 10) The signatory shall bear full responsibility for any inquiries, complaints, disputes, etc., that may arise with respect to the manuscript.
- 11) Any survey and research activity carried out in the preparation of the manuscript was conducted using appropriate methods.

Note 1: Please note that if a person employed by a corporation or the like is involved with the manuscript, said corporation or the like may become a co-author (Copyright Act, Article 15, paragraph 1).

Note 2: After making a copy of this guaranty form and filling in the required details, such as the names of co-authors, please send the copy to the editorial committee together with the manuscript. A signed guaranty form is required for the manuscript to be considered for publication.

Notice concerning (planned) repository registration and the like.

1 If the manuscript has already been registered in a repository, please record the URL in the space provided below.
URL:

2 If you plan to register the manuscript in a repository, please check the box below and record the URL of the top page of the registration repository in the space provided.

I plan to register the manuscript in a repository; however, I will not register it until the acceptance or rejection decision has been finalized pursuant to section D4 of the Instructions to Authors of the Journal of the Geological Society of Japan. Also, I understand that if I seek to register the manuscript after acceptance, it is necessary to conform to the Geological Society of Japan Regulations on the Use of Published Works.

URL:

Manuscript number: (received on:)

○A signed copy of this guaranty form should be sent with all submitted manuscripts.

Form 1